DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. The term "descriptive" in claim 5 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "descriptive" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

5. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,477,513 B1 to Walker et al.
6. In regards to claims 1-10, 12, 14-16, and 19, Walker discloses an electronic transaction involving a buyer and a seller. An electronic form is sent to the seller from the buyer detailing the terms of the transaction (Walker: column 8, lines 57-61). A record is stored in the contract terms database. The fields in the record include the party name (Walker: figure 6, column 7, lines 45-53). This meets the limitations of "identifying a sender of a message requesting an action as part of the shared process; determining the party of the sender." The contract also includes the start date, the expiration date, conditions, status, and amount (Walker: figure 6; column 7, lines 49-54). This meets the limitations of "associating the sender's party with a business relationship between the sender's party and the receiver's party as defined by an electronic contract without relying on a trusted third party to provide a common rooted key hierarchy; identifying terms and conditions of the electronic contract corresponding to the shared process; and verifying that the request action corresponds to the terms and conditions and is allowable for the shared process by the sender." The seller can then modify the contract and return it to the buyer or can just return the unmodified contract to the buyer (Walker: figure 12-13; column 8, lines 64-67; column 9, lines 1-3). If the buyer agrees to the terms of the contract, he then digitally signs the contract (Walker: column 8, lines 64-67; column 9, lines 1-3).

7. In regards to claim 11, the buyer, seller, or trusted agent may have permission certificates which allow the holder to get information such as verifying the total amount of funds or verifying that the amount on deposit meets a certain amount. The permission certificate also allows the holder to review the terms and restrictions of the contract (Walker: column 11, line 11-24)..

Art Unit: 2132

8. In regards to claims 13 and 18, Walker discloses authorization number, party name, party address, permission certificate type, start date, expiration date, conditions, status, and amount (Walker: column 7, lines 45-54).

9. In regards to claim 17, a verification authority is designated which serves as an independent auditing authority to assure the trusted agent monitoring the transaction that the parties have met the condition of the agreement (Walker: column 12, lines 1-7).

Conclusion
